

Lecture on 'Data Driven Design for Sustainability - decoupling energy and health burdens from poverty'

by Dr. Ronita Bardhan on 26 July 2022

Dr. Ronita Bardhan, Associate Professor of Sustainability in the Built Environment at the University of Cambridge.

Dr. Bardhan is an alumna of the Department, graduated in June 2005; did her post-graduation in City Planning from IIT Kharagpur in 2007, and then Ph.D. from University of Tokyo in 2013. She also shared her journey, connecting the milestones BESU Shibpur - IIT Kharagpur - University of Tokyo - IIT Bombay - University of Cambridge.

