Shortly after receiving certification to operate in Colombia, Zitro Digital announced a partnership with Paraguayan online casino Bplay in late February. Earlier in February, Zitro announced that it would be partnering with ORYX Gaming, a B2B and technology solutions provider with much of its operations in Europe. This is not Zitro's first time striking business in Paraguay: in fact, Zitro's games are also available at retail casinos around the country.

In late February, Zitro Digital and Bplay announced a partnership between the companies, meaning that Zitro's online games would be available to Bplay users in Paraguay. This will include Zitro's video bingo and digital slots. In a press release, the companies emphasized that new players to Bplay would immediately have access to a special promotional offer.

Casinos top online zitro

The Bplay online casino is powered by a retail casino in Paraguay, 7 Saltos Resort. Around the world, it is not an uncommon arrangement for an online casino to be in collaboration with a brick-and-mortar casino, and during COVID-19, this is a savvy business decision, allowing for retail casinos to offset some lockdown-related financial losses with iGaming.

7 Saltos Resort is located on the scenic border between Paraguay and Brazil. According to a press release about the collaboration between Bplay and Zitro Digital, Zitro's online games are particularly popular in the geographic region between Paraguay and Brazil, so this is likely to be a lucrative deal for both companies.

The 7 Saltos Resort casino is located within the 7 Saltos Resort, a 3.5 star hotel located between Paraguay and Brazil. In addition to its retail casino, 7 Saltos Resort has a 24 hour gym, a bar and lounge, and an outdoor tennis court. The resort offers 71 rooms, all with free WiFi available to guests.

In mid-December, 2020, Zitro announced another partnership with a Paraguayan casino, this time at Casino Premium. This deal did not come with a digital gaming collaboration — rather, the casino chose to install Zitro's extremely popular progressive multigame, Link King.

Online casinos top zitro

For years now, Zitro's progressive multigame Link King has outshone some of its other products, including in the digital realm. The success of Zitro's Link King has been referred to as iconic for the brand, the kind of popular game that defines an entire generation of ensuing products, not just for Zitro, but for the industry.

Since the release of Link King, the game, which is playable on Zitro's Illusion and Allure cabinets, has been installed at casinos around the world, with a strong concentration in the Latin American market. In addition to the install at Paraguay's Casino Premium, this also recently included Uruguay's Santa Cristina Hotel & Casino.

Like another competitive gambling company Pragmatic Play, Zitro has spent the last year honing a robust presence in Latin America. This was solidified when the company chose to build an additional office in Bogotá, Colombia, which took place months before the company had even been given the green light to operate online gambling in the country.

Though Zitro announced that it would be building an office in Colombia's capital city, it did not receive a certificate to offer Zitro Digital games in Colombia until a year later. In January 2021, Colombia's gambling regulators gave Zitro Digital the green light to provide its games to the millions of enthusiastic iGaming users in Colombia.

In the grand scheme of the Latin American gambling market, Paraguay often pales in comparison to nearby countries like Brazil, Argentina, Mexico, and Colombia. Still, some of the biggest names in international gambling have established business in the country, including Play'n GO and Greentube, both of which came to Paraguay in summer 2020.

The first of the two companies to announce that it would be building business in Paraguay was NOVOMATIC Interactive's Greentube, which revealed that it would be partnering with Paraguay's Il Palazzo casino in late June, 2020. Like the 7 Saltos Resort, Il Palazzo operates an online casino, where Greentube's virtual games would be made available.

Less than two months later, leading games developer Play'n GO struck a deal with the exact same casino, Il Palazzo. Like Greentube, Play'n GO's gaming content was made available via Il Palazzo's online casino offering. As such, it is a demonstrable trend that games developers are choosing to concentrate efforts in Paraguay's online market.

In late February, reports came from Paraguayan officials that a proposed bridge project linking Paraguay's capital city, Asuncion, with regions in Paraguay's hinterlands, was hitting a snag. As of late February, concerns were beginning to surface that the project would cost much more than was originally anticipated, possibly delaying the works further.

This worrisome news came as officials in Paraguay began efforts to vaccinate its citizens against the novel respiratory infection known as COVID-19. Like many other Latin American countries, Paraguay is largely using Russia's new COVID-19 vaccine, known as Sputnik V. The wave of vaccinations dovetailed with a spike in COVID-19 infections in Paraguay.

Recent changes in German gambling rules that are focused on responsible gaming make it quite challenging for a software developer to integrate its games into operators that accept players from Germany. Such a studio must make some adjustments to its releases before it is eligible to offer its content in the country. BGaming has announced that it has finished that stage, and its portfolio of reel machines is now compliant with gambling restrictions in Germany.

Many major and local online operators already added a set of slots, as well as great online bingo from Zitro to their portfolios. The list includes, among others, 1xBet. This is no surprise. Since 2011, when the studio opened the door to its virtual lobby and received a license from the jurisdiction of Curacao, it's been after new and innovative content.

Online casinos zitro top

Today, 1xBet has grown its instant and mobile-friendly online lobby to more than 1,500 games. These can be played in regular and digital currencies. What is more, the website is also home to Sportsbook, exchange betting, lotteries, poker, and bingo.

In regards to the Spanish roots of the company, it is impossible not to mention Suertia. The online operator is licensed and regulated by the jurisdiction of Spain and accepts the local gambling community. The platform's been live since the mid 2010s, delivering 100s of games, as well as Sportsbook, Bingo, and poker. It accepts Euros and offers unlimited monthly cashouts, as well as speedy payouts. The brand scores high ratings online.

Another important brand not to miss out on is MegaPari. This is an international lobby with licensing from the jurisdiction of Curacao and with quite a few years of experience. Its content is adapted to more than twenty languages. Poker, bingo, and Sportsbook services neighbor 100s of non-live games and a big live dealer lobby. The cashier accepts more than ten regular currencies, and a plethora of digital ones. It also stands by unlimited monthly cashouts and speedy withdrawals.

The story of Zitro dates back to 2007. This privately held company was founded in Luxembourg where a man named Alejandro Ortiz and his son Johnny Ortiz (who is still at the steering wheel of the brand) decided it is time to merge the strength of technology and the power of an idea and start producing outstanding gambling content.
